Cure Your Printing Pain Points

“The CEO will be happy to cut costs, boost productivity, and create efficiencies ”

Printing Pain Points in an Organization

It is essential to know the pain points of specific individuals within an organization when considering a print management solution.

CEO's Pain Points:

They currently don't have a printing strategy to improve their bottom line, boost productivity, and/or create efficiencies

CFO's Pain Points:

- Their fleet size continues to grow
- They have no way to accurately calculate how much they spend on printing
- They have no clear strategy to help control printing costs

IT Manager's Pain Points:

- They don't like dealing with printers
- They have no predictive measure for supplies and maintenance fulfillment
- They have no clear strategy to manage their fleet

Purchaser's Pain Points:

- They have no predictive measures for supplies or hardware ordering
- They have no strategy to help contain printing and hardware costs

End User's Pain Points:

- They have downtime due to supplies and service issues
- They have print quality issues

“XPERTVIEW Print Management can cure the printing pain points of everyone in an organization by cutting costs and streamlining processes.”

XPERTVIEW Print Management can cure the printing pain points of everyone in an organization by cutting costs and streamlining processes:

- Extend the life of printing devices
- Optimize device placements
- Provide proactive maintenance and online supplies ordering
- Transparently view the costs associated with each device

The CEO will be happy because:

They have obtained a strategy that will cut costs, boost productivity, and create efficiencies

The CFO will be happy because:

- They can maintain their current fleet without adding unnecessary hardware and permanently reduce their budget for IT infrastructure
- They can see exactly how much their fleet costs and how much they are printing
- They can work with the XPERTVIEW team to develop a cost reduction strategy for their fleet

The IT Manager will be happy because:

- They can identify all of their printing devices within minutes
- They can initiate maintenance and supplies fulfillment proactively, before an issue arises
- They no longer have the headache of managing the fleet

The Purchaser will be happy because:

They can look at the usage of the hardware they have, and replace hardware strategically

The End User will be happy because:

Their fleet is managed, supplied, and serviced proactively, resulting in increased and efficient printing
